

On occasion of its 200 years of independence: The innovation winner Peru is a partner of the Global Food Summit at the Berlin Science Week on November 5, 2021.

For the third time now, the Global Food Summit will participate at the Berlin Science Week on November 5, 2021. This year's theme is: "Foodtropolis - Urban.Circular.Food & Climate Change". Peru's Ambassador to Germany, H.E. Elmer Schialer Salcedo, will provide the welcome speech. Stephan Becker-Sonnenschein, Head and Founder of the Global Food Summit, explains:

"This year, Peru is celebrating its 'Bicentenario', that is, its 200 years of independence from the Spanish crown. To mark the occasion, the country has set two extraordinary sustainability goals: First, to completely reduce the deforestation of its forests to zero before the end of the year, and to replace it with sustainable forestry. Secondly, the construction of a new city north of Lima is to begin soon: the so-called "Ciudad Bicentenario," which will meet all sustainability criteria with regard to climate change. Among other things, around 2,000 hectares will be reforested and irrigated with treated wastewater. The new city is planned for around 115,000 inhabitants.

It is a very special honor for us, in this anniversary year, to welcome the Peruvian Ambassador to Germany, H. E. Elmer Schialer Salcedo, for a welcome speech at the Global Food Summit at the Berlin Science Week:

Date: 5. November 2021
Time: 12.00 Uhr MEZ

In order to register, please visit: globalfoodsummit.live

Peru is moreover one of the innovation winners of 2021. The country has been declared an innovation driver by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) in Geneva, for the first time. This means that, compared to its economic performance, the country has launched more innovations than expected.

Sustainability through innovation is therefore Peru's thematic focus at our digital conference "Foodtropolis-Urban.Circular.Food & Climate Change" at the Berlin Science Week.

You can register for the entire Global Food Summit conference at Berlin Science Week, on November 5, 2021 from 9:00 am to 6:30 pm, "Foodtropolis - Urban. Circular. Food & Climate Change" here.

Registration: globalfoodsummit.live
Please find the complete program hier:

In case you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact:

Isabella Pfaff
+49 (0)30 21 96 05 20
isabella.pfaff@globalfoodsummit.com

About the Global Food Summit:

The Global Food Summit collaborates with the German Academy of Science and Engineering (acatech), the University of California, Berkeley, Wageningen University, the Technical University of Munich, TUM and the Bavarian Nutrition Cluster of the Bavarian State Ministry of Food, Agriculture and Forestry. The Global Food Summit takes place once a year in Munich. Here, leading companies, science, politics, start-ups, media and associations meet to give a voice to the innovative along the food supply chain.

Follow the Global Food Summit on Twitter and LinkedIn for regular updates.

If you no longer wish to receive this e-mail (at: {EMAIL}), you can unsubscribe here for free.

Global Food Summit
Friedrichstraße 171
10117 Berlin
Deutschland

030 21 96 05 39
contact@globalfoodsummit.com

